As an art director, he directed and supervised designers, illustrators, researchers, and production personnel. In addition, Sheaff has been involved in the design and project management of stamp-related publications, children's books, retail packaging, and a national direct mail catalog. His eclectic artistic interests are best described in his own words: "I have always found myself keenly interested in a seemingly endless list of vintage things, especially ephemera: stamps, postal history, trade cards, billheads, trade cards, broadsides, cartes-de-visite, stereo views, tickets, engravings, chromolithographs, early American glass, Irish blown three-mold glass, patent medicine bottles, flasks, almanacs, postcards, marbled paper, early letterpress printing, typography, books, African art, record album covers, airbrushed restaurant china, Micronesian tapa cloth..."
